

Beatrix Potter was an author and she wrote books about animals.

Beatrix Potter was born in London in 1866.

She did not have many friends but she had lots of pets.

She had 2 rabbits called Benjamin and Peter.

Her family were rich and she was educated at home.

She went on holiday to Scotland and the Lake District.

Beatrix enjoyed painting animals and nature when she was on holiday.

She wrote The Tale of Peter Rabbit and it was made into a book when she was 30.

Beatrix died when she was 77 years old.